DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-18, 20-23, 26-71, 75, and 80-95 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being obvious over Chen et al. (US006741969B1).
4. Chen et al. teaches (independent claims 1, 56, 60, 65, 69, 71, 75, 80, 81, 82, 92, 93, 94, 95) a method, product and system/apparatus for adjusting prices of one or more items, particularly at a restaurant, the method comprising: receiving a request for and providing an indication of a list of items associated with a restaurant (menus, col. 9 lines 48-52), wherein said lists inherently include a plurality of items available from said restaurant, each of said plurality of items having an associated initial price (the amount to be charged) and an associated price adjustment (the incentive) available upon completion of a qualifying action (paying for the meal), and adjusting the associated initial price of at least one of said plurality of items by its respective price adjustment (col. 7 lines 5-6). Chen et al. also teaches presentation of a payment means (col. 7 lines 1-5 and 6-11), which reads on receiving an indication of a commitment to complete said qualifying action. For claim 1, the incentive reads on a subsidy offer.

Art Unit: 3622

5. Chen et al. also teaches at the citations given above claims 2-6, 17, 18, 20, 21, 23, 26-34, 36, 37, 39-52, 53 (where anyone who provides the subsidy/incentive/gift certificate is a "subsidizer"), 54, 56, 63, 64, 68, 83-88, 90 and 91.
6. Chen et al. also teaches claim 7 (auctioning the subsidy/gift certificate, col. 1 lines 44-51); claims 8-15, 35, 38, 57-59, 61, 62, 66 and 67, for a variety of disclosed actions, any of which read on a "qualifying action"; claim 16 (when the auction expires (col. 2 line 24); claim 22; and claims 55 and 89, where the subsidizer (e.g., the restaurant) must inherently decide how to allocate the aggregate subsidy/incentive.
7. For claims 82-91, the recitation "allowing a third party" has not been given patentable weight because the recitation occurs in the preamble. A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976) and Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478, 481 (CCPA 1951).
8. Claims 19, 24, 25, 72-74 and 76-79 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Chen et al. (US006741969B1). Chen et al. does not teach verification. Because it is common and easy to return to a website to check information, which reads on verification, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of the invention, to add price verification to the teachings of Chen et al.

Conclusion

9. The references made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Bushy (US005761647A) teaches some features of the instant invention.
